COMPLY365 SIGNS CONTRACT WITH AIR WISCONSIN AIRLINES CORPORATION

Air Wisconsin chooses Comply365's innovative AQP Manager to help meet new advanced qualification process training requirements.

Roscoe, IL – Comply365 announced today that it signed a multi-year contract with Air Wisconsin Airlines Corporation to use its leading edge AQP Manager software to help execute its advanced qualification training program with pilots.

Comply365's AQP Manager module helps airlines quickly implement the FAA approved training process called "advanced qualification program." This new approach to training allows pilots to train to proficiency rather than a process.

There is renewed interest in this process as many of the major carriers are instituting AQP and requiring their contractors to adhere to their AQP process as well. Comply365 software gives the airline a powerful tool to help pilots train and test using this process. Robust real-time reporting, simultaneous scoring, live grading functionality and reason codes give the airline and pilots real-time feedback they need for efficient and thorough advanced training that meets FAA standards.

"We are pleased to partner with Comply365 and utilize their innovative software to track and streamline our process, reduce risk and enhance the training experience. Greater efficiencies, expanded line of sight and dashboard reporting will give us the agility, compliance support, time and cost savings we need in our competitive environment," said Janet Huculak, Vice President Strategic Sourcing, Air Wisconsin.

"We are thrilled to add a premiere regional carrier to our client list and are excited that Air Wisconsin is one of the first to leverage our AQP Manager," added Kerry Frank, CEO of Comply365.
