COMPLY365 ADDS BOOSHAN BHARATH TO ENGINEERING TEAM

Bharath brings extensive solution development and airline expertise to Comply365

Roscoe, IL –October 7, 2011 - Comply365 is delighted to announce Booshan Bharath has joined the company as a Solution Architect.

Mr. Bharath will be responsible for designing new solutions and enhancing existing products as Comply365 continually brings innovative solutions to market. His extensive technology, solution design, application architecture and project management experience will add depth to our software team.

Bharath brings over 10 years of technology development and integration experience with Delta Air Lines as well as senior consulting experience with Cap Gemini. His leadership and extensive knowledge base with technologies, architecture and implementation will be a tremendous asset to Comply365 customers. "Booshan's reputation for designing and implementing solutions that work is outstanding," explained Dude Frank, Chief Technology Officer for Comply365. "His extensive airline and enterprise experience will definitely help us accelerate our development efforts," added Frank.

Bharath also brings specialized safety expertise and advanced certifications to the team. Bharath has played significant roles in development and rollout of Advanced Qualification Program (AQP) programs. "Our clients will undoubtedly benefit from Bharath's proven airline expertise, AQP and learning management knowledge base, and report development track record." said Kerry Frank, Chief Executive Officer. "We continually look for top talent, and we are thrilled to have Booshan join our team," added Frank.

Bharath received Bachelor of Science degree in Avionics from ASI in New Delhi, India and a Master of Science in Computer Science/Software Development from Marist College in Poughkeepsie, New York.

"Booshan's leadership and creativity will no doubt help Comply365 to bring industry-leading enhancements and solutions to market quickly." said Dude Frank.
